

TIMES-CALL

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 7, 2009 | LONGMONT, COLORADO

Domestic violence

Domestic Violence Awareness Month is October. It's a national movement to bring public attention to the problem of intimate partner violence.

Domestic violence is not a family, individual or police issue. It is a community issue.

Domestic violence in Longmont can be stopped, but it takes our residents working together to create a unified community that does not tolerate domestic violence.